Act 1 Contd.

Debate

Persimmony meets an anxious, bald, gollum-like creature named WORVIL. They go to the king's castle to warn him that the Leaf eaters have also been digging towards the giant.

Break into 2

King Lucas sends Persimmony and Worvil to the Snoring Cave to find the head of the giant and prove that he is real.

08

Act Two

Persimmony, and Worvil travel to the Snoring Cave. Persimmony enters the cave and takes a strand of the giant's hair as proof of his existence. Persimmony leaves to the village to warn the people of the danger.

09

Act Two Contd.

Midpoint

Persimmony breaks into Willowroot, hoping to stop the digging and find her father.

All is Lost

Everyone abandons the castle except for King Lucas. The LeafEaters are about to reach the foot of the mountain.

Dark Night

The mountain and castle begin to break apart as the giant wakes up. The townspeople are panicking as the earthquake knocks down their homes.

10

Act Three

Break into 3

Persimmony and Worvil stop the Leafeaters from digging into the giant and they lull the giant back to sleep.

Finale

Persimmony is reunited with her family and the island is saved. Worvil gains his courage, King Lucas learns to be a benevolent king.

Final Image

Persimmony and her family look out to the ocean and see her father returning on a ship, ready to bring them to a new home. The end.

Target Audience

This animated film is predominantly targeted for kids age 5-12. Boys and girls will both love the adventurous spirit, lighthearted comedy, and eccentric fantasy characters. Because of the quirky, sarcastic tone of the story, teenagers and adults will also enjoy this tale, especially when watching with younger siblings/children.

Why now?

There is a huge need right now for faith-based films for kids. Angel Studios is currently taking the lead in this type of content through the Wingfeather Saga series, and Kingdom Story has the opportunity to step up into this role of providing encouraging entertainment for younger audiences through Mt. Majestic.
